EXPERT SPEAKER

ALLISON KRALL, MS, RD, LD, CNSC

Lead Dietitian, Dietitian Small-bore Feeding Tube Placement Team
The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center, Columbus, OH

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Identify common challenges of timely feeding tube placement in an acute care setting
- Review current literature describing outcomes associated with dedicated feeding tube placement teams
- Describe the process and potential challenges of initiating an inpatient dietitian-led small-bore feeding tube team
- Illustrate how the roles and responsibilities of the RDN on a feeding tube team differ from that of the traditional clinical dietitian

Join us to explore the challenges and innovations in feeding tube placement, and discover how dedicated teams can transform patient care!
